Susan Cramer Stein, Photographer

“My lifelong love of photography inspired me to leave my career as a stockbroker and pursue my passion full time. I don’t limit myself to any specific subject matter; but, I find wildlife the most interesting. I’ve been published multiple times and my work is exhibited both privately and in public exhibitions. I would love to spend time with you! We’ll make some incredible images, I’ll teach you a thing or two about photography, and we’ll have a great time doing it!”

Susan Cramer Stein is an internationally-known, award-winning photographer, and a native of Ohio. She specializes in fine art prints- primarily wildlife, landscape and human interest.
